Parish Nurses Facilitate Community Response to Hurricane Frances

A week after FRANCES hit the eastern coast of Florida, Interfaith Health & Wellness Association, Inc. (IHWA) received a phone call from one of its grant supporters – the Community Foundation of Palm Beach and Martin Counties. Mary Wyns of its Nonprofit Resource Institute and one of IHWA’s avid supporters was looking to fulfill a need at a Red Cross Shelter in Pahokee and asked assistance of our spiritual communities. Within 3 hours IHWA was able to contact several parish nurses to coordinate the following:

- Same day delivery of a truckload of supplies-diapers, formula, water/personal items from the area distribution center of the United Methodist Churches in West Palm Beach, Florida.
- Collection of personal items by school children and their families from St. Paul’s Lutheran Church/School in Boca Raton, Florida. In just two days items, filling a car, were delivered to families who had been relocated from the hurricane shelter in Pahokee to temporary tent housing in their mobile park home area. Most of these individuals had lost everything.
- Collection of food items and insect repellent (for a follow-up delivery) by children and their families from St. Jude Catholic Church School in Boca Raton, Florida

We salute nurses who, through their interfaith community connections, find people ready to help and able to assist when a need is identified. Parish nurses who facilitated these efforts: Debbie Oetinger, Edna Zent and Kathy Grimm and Sister Francis Madigan, LSW

We salute you for your efforts!!

According to the National Institute on Aging, “if exercise could be packed into a pill, it would be the single most widely prescribed, and beneficial, medicine in the nation.”

Many times exercise is prescribed for disease improvement as well as prevention. Six common diseases that respond to exercise are:

1. Heart Disease. The American Heart Association reports that physical inactivity is one of the risk factors for cardiovascular disease. Regular exercise can decrease blood pressure, cholesterol and obesity—resulting in a 40% less risk of dying of cardiovascular disease.

2. Osteoporosis. A disease that affects millions of postmenopausal women and elderly men. Both weight resistance and impact aerobic exercises assist in preventing bone loss.

3. Diabetes. Particularly low-impact walking, when done consistently, helps with blood glucose control.

4. Arthritis. Endurance, muscle strength, joint flexibility and range of motion exercises can lead to improvement of motion and reduction in pain.

5. Backaches. Orthopedic physicians support the concept that one of the most important factors in back/spine health is overall fitness and muscle tone. Cardiovascular fitness helps maintain the bone mass that is important to a healthy spine. Other key areas are limber hamstrings and hip-flexor joints, and toned abdominal muscles.

6. Depression. This most common mental illness can be greatly reduced with consistent exercise. Exercise is sometimes called a natural “high.” This is due to the affect of increased blood flow which appears to increase ones feelings of well-being, improve self-image and affect how stress is handled. This is an especially good, cost effective treatment for long, dull winters or the long rainy seasons.
